Folger-Harris—

Friend in Bryan have received the following invitation:

"Mrs. Ella Modewell Harris will give in marriage her daughter Lillis to Mr. Charles Alton Folger, Wednesday afternoon, September 11, 1912, at 12:30 o'clock, Presbyterian church, York, Ala. At home after September 16 at College Station, Texas."

Mr. Folger has many friends in this city and at College who extend hearty congratulations in advance. The bride-to-be is a sister of Mrs. Ridgway of College and during her visits to Texas won the hearts of many friends in this city by her charming personality.

September Civic League Meeting—

The president of the Bryan Civic League has announced the September meeting for Wednesday, September 4, at 5 o'clock. Much good work has been accomplished by the league during the past few months, and strong committees are busily engaged on many new lines of civic improvement that will mean much for the civic pride of our little city. It is hoped that every citizen will enlist in the united movement being formulated by the members of the league for thorough and permanent sanitation.

Watch the paper for further announcements of the September meeting and be present at that hour to help with your presence, your ideas and your support.

Pleasant House Party—

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Webb Howell in this city a most delightful house party is being entertained. Mrs. Howell's lovely mother, Mrs. W. C. Friley, is present, also her sisters, Mrs. R. E. May and Miss Ruth Friley of Huntsville, and her brother, Charles E. Friley of College Station.

Thursday evening a merry party of young folks enjoyed a delightful hour at the picture show, followed by a prettily served ice course at a local ice cream parlor. Those composing the party were Miss Ruth Bonwright and Mr. Skains, Miss Annie Belle Batte and Charles Pipkin, Miss Mary

James and Rosa Brogdon, Miss Ruth Friley and Earl Graham, Miss Roxie Long and Algie Hearne, Miss Della Lawrence and Edgeworth Webb, Miss Myrtle James and Davis Cole.

Twilight Twenty—

Not in the least disturbed by the excessive heat of these sultry summer days the jolly membership of the Twilight Twenty enjoys a meeting every week at the home of one of the club girls. Thursday is the regular day for these pleasant gatherings, and Miss Bell Gainer was hostess this week.

It is a rule of the club that officers shall be elected each month, and the list of new officers is as follows: Miss Lois Pipkin, president; Miss Bell Gainer, vice president; Miss Noble Webb, secretary-treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Wilson, reporter.

When all club business was disposed of the hostess introduced a pretty little contest, in which Miss Ethel Evans won the prize. Sherbet and cake were served.

Misses Lois and Lottie Bell Pipkin will entertain the Twilight Twenty next Thursday afternoon.

Notes and Personals—

A benefit tea for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church, given on Friday afternoon by Miss Hattie White, was a pleasant affair of the week, and one thoroughly enjoyed by the many friends of the charming hostess. The plate of "silver" was well filled with free-will offerings when the afternoon was over.

Miss Lila Adams of Houston is a guest of Miss Della Lawrence.

A dainty little birth card announcing the arrival of Samuel Stocking, Jr., at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stocking, at Seattle, Wash., has been received by Bryan friends. Mrs. Stocking, nee Miss Johnnie Wilson, is most pleasantly remembered in this city.

Miss Anita Park is enjoying the pleasures of the coast at Galveston this summer as the guest of friends. Miss Park has been the honoree of many social courtesies during her visit to Galveston. She will return to Bryan early in September.

Miss Dorcas Parker has returned from a delightful visit to Marlin. She left Friday for Waco, where she will be a guest of friends.

Mrs. Ira Gooch of Navasota is a guest of Mrs. Albert Buchanan. Mrs. Gooch lived in Bryan for many years and has a host of friends in this city who always accord her a cordial welcome.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

Presiding Elder Turrentine to Preach at First Methodist Church.

Dr. J. B. Turrentine, presiding elder of the Navasota district for the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Priddy. Dr. Turrentine will preach at the morning services in the First Methodist church, holding the regular quarterly conference at the conclusion of the sermon.

Rev. Glenn Flinn, the pastor, is also in the city, having returned from his vacation trip, and interesting services and soul inspiring sermons may be anticipated at both morning and evening hours. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

A. & M. COLLEGE
FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Includes Games with Some of the Strongest Teams in South. — Moran and Utay Will Coach.

With the first game of football this season less than two months off the supporters of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and the football lovers throughout the state are asking "What are A. & M.'s prospects this year for a winning team?" It is just this: With nine of the "T" men back and a world of youngsters, as it was a conceded fact that A. & M. College had the best lot of substitutes in the country last year, they will again be ranked among the best in the South.

Charlie Moran will again pilot the Farmers in their gridiron struggles. He needs no introduction to the football fans of Texas, as his work for the past three years has thoroughly demonstrated his ability as a trainer of men as well as a coach. He will have the able assistance of Joe Utay, a former A. & M. football hero and captain of the team in 1907. Utay is a backfield man and for the past three years has been athletic director at the Dallas University, one of the best preparatory schools in the state. He has been eminently successful in this line of work and the college is indeed fortunate in securing his services. He will also act as financial manager, as the authorities thought best to employ a manager instead of placing the entire responsibility upon the student manager as heretofore has been the custom, as it requires too much time from a student's school work; however, the student manager will not be dispensed with, but will assist Mr. Utay with his duties.

A. & M. Schedule.

October 12—Daniel Baker at College Station.

October 18—Trinity University at College Station.

October 26—Arkansas University at Dallas.

November 1—Austin College at College Station.

November 11—Oklahoma University at Houston.

November 16—Mississippi A. & M. College at College Station.

November 19—Tulane University at College Station.

November 22—Kansas Aggies at College Station.

November 28—Baylor University at Dallas.

A mere glance at the schedule will insure the lovers of the game ample amusement during the football season. This undoubtedly is the best schedule ever arranged by any institution in Texas.

The games with Daniel Baker and Trinity will, of course, be practice games and will be played with a view of getting a line on some of the youngsters. However, Trinity may prove more than a practice game, as they usually put a good team in the field. The next game will be one of the best that A. & M. will play this fall, as Mr. Bedzek and his Razorbacks from Fayetteville are generally there with the goods, and are a fast bunch all the time in the game, and coming as early as it does, the Farmers must put forth every effort if they expect to defeat the Razorbacks, and no doubt they will, as they have a score to wipe out with Mr. Bedzek.

The Farmers then journey back to College Station, where they meet Austin College on November 1. This team has always put up the gamest fight for any light team that has ever invaded the Farmers' camp, and has won much favorable comment on the way they play against the heavy teams. Then comes a long rest until November 11, the opening day of the Houston carnival, when the Farmers meet the Sooners. Billy Owen and his pigskin chasers are well known in Texas and all know the article of football they play. In 1911 this team went through the entire season without a single defeat, and were without doubt the champions of the Southwest. It will be a great game. A game where two heavy fast teams will meet to fight for supremacy on the gridiron. Will A. & M. win? Doubtless this game will be witnessed by many thousand people, as it will be the largest and best game in the state next season.

At College Station on the 16th the Farmers will meet the Mississippi A. & M.

Next comes Tulane University on the 19th at College Station, which will no doubt be a good game. While Tulane was a little weak for several years she has been on the upclimb for the past two or three years.

On the 22d the Kansas Aggies from Manhattan, Kan., will journey to College Station to try to wallow the husky Farmers, and from their reputation of the past few years it will be a game worth seeing. It is anticipated that special trains will be run into College Station on that day to accommodate the many thousand lovers of the game who will want to see the Aggies in action.

The Farmers will close the season with Baylor University in Dallas on Thanksgiving Day. Last year Baylor's team was no match for the heavy Farmers, but this was an off year. It will be remembered that in 1910 Baylor was conceded to have had as good a team as there was in the state, and it is expected that the 1912 team will be at least its equal, if not the superior of any Baylor has ever turned out, and it is not at all improbable that the championship game of Texas will be fought at Gaston park on November 28.

Among the "T" men that will be back are T. L. Bell, captain; R. J. Grissom, backfield end; R. A. Kern, quarterback; J. A. Lutrick, tackle and guard; H. G. Lambert, tackle; J. M. Foote, end; J. V. Lyles, tackle; A. R. Bateman, halfback; Vosmirovsky, fullback. With these nine "T" men there are such as Bowler, Beasley, McQueen, Everett, Burson, Cushman, Driess, Eagleton, Nelms, Scofield, Washington, Morrison, Spake, Parker and several others, who were good men and who will make the old men hustle to hold their jobs.

The athletic authorities have made arrangements to train at New Braunfels, and a better place could not have been selected, as it is an ideal place for camping, fishing, swimming and all kinds of outdoor exercises. The work at the camp will very likely consist of light signal practice, principally hardening the muscles and a complete review of the changes in the rules. This will be given especial attention, as there are some important changes this year that will materially affect a team.

Facts About a Few Men Who Will Likely Constitute Personnel of the Team.

T. L. Bell, captain and halfback, very fast and a sure ground gainer; was one of the best line plungers on the team last year.

Grissom, halfback and end, but may be shifted to the line this year. He has had several years of experience and is a fast, heady man. He is expected to show up well this year.

R. A. Kern, the brainy little quarterback who made his debut into the football world two years ago in Houston, when under his guidance the Farmers romped off with the large end of the score with the university, is recognized as one of the best quarters in the South. Kern is working with the Southern Pacific company during the summer and will report to New Braunfels in time for early training.

J. A. Lutrick, H. B. Lambert, J. V. Lyles, and possibly S. E. Bowler will be used as guards and tackles during the coming season. However, Cushman and Scofield will be strong contenders for these places.

Driess, Washington, Morrison and Nelms will most likely constitute the ends, while Bateman and Beasley will very probably be running mates at the halfbacks, with Foote, McQueen and Everett healthy contenders. However, it is quite possible that Foote will be used on end, as he is a "T" man and one of the best tacklers that ever wore football togs.

At fullback there will be Vosmirovsky and Parker. The latter was not eligible last year under the one-year transfer rule, having played the year before with Austin College.

Spake and Nelms will very probably be used at quarter and are both good men. Herring and Harrison, youngsters from Allen Academy with quite a reputation, will also be used in the backfield, as well as Reeves. The latter will possibly work at fullback, as he is a splendid kicker.

Of course everyone knows that it is a more hazardous business to attempt to dope out the men and positions on a football team in advance than it is to pick the pennant winner in a baseball league at the opening of the season. With such a likely bunch of men with a world of new material, it looks to the writer that A. & M. College will be ably represented on the gridiron again this fall.

Foster's Weather Bulletin

Washington, Aug. 24.—(Copyright, 1912, by W. T. Foster.)—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent August 25 to 29, warm wave 24th to 28th, cool wave 27th to 31st. Moderate temperatures are expected with this disturbance, and only small rains in the drouth predicted sections. I again warn everyone against the crop news. Interested speculators have complete control and will not permit correct crop reports to be published. They want prices to go very low in order that they can buy.

Recently I have traveled extensively in the great crop growing states and I found more than half the corn crop a month late and much of it will never mature. There are many sections where dry weather is hurting corn. Much winter wheat was ploughed up and the acreage now used in the calculations is not correct. There is no grass for pasturage and beef cattle are being sold early on that account.

All crops are good around and in vicinity of Great Lakes. I still advise not to sell cotton, corn, oats, and wheat. It is bad business policy to sell products so early. My advice is to hold grain and cotton until January or February. Don't forget that advice of these bulletins has proven good for years past.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast August 29, cross Pacific slope by close of 30th, great central valleys 31st to September 2, eastern sections 3d. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about August 29, great central valleys 31st, eastern sections September 2. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about September 1, great central valleys 3d, eastern sections 5th.

Temperatures of the week in which the warm wave passes your longitude on the central day will average about normal, the storm forces will be greater than usual, causing severe storms in places, and rainfall will be generally below the usual amount. Indications are favorable to thunderstorms, hailstorms and possibly tornadoes from August 25 to September 2.

Another disturbance will reach Pacific coast about September 5, cross central valleys 7th to 9th, eastern sections 10th. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about September 5, great central valleys 7th, eastern sections 9th. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about September 8, great central valleys 10th, eastern sections 12th.

This disturbance will be moderate with moderate temperatures and not much rain. A large part of the corn crop will be newly in silk, tassels and the milk, or not yet in good rearing ear, and in some sections the dry weather will be injuring the late corn at this time. Temperatures are expected to gradually go higher till near September 20 and then fall rapidly to 26th and 30th, and about these dates killing frosts will go far southward, but not far enough to damage cotton.

Maybe that the holes in the atmosphere, found by aviators, will lead scientists to recognize that the earth is surrounded by an electrosphere of great density and that all the supposed wave motions that carry sound is in that electrosphere and not in the atmosphere. Surely the wireless telegraph operates through an electrosphere and not through the atmosphere. That electrosphere rotates with the earth and by that means the moon is pushed around the earth in the same direction that the earth rotates, from west to east. The most standpat or conservative are those in government employ. They must be pushed before they will go forward.
